Description

The dino game is one of the most popular and beloved games on the internet, even though it was originally designed to be played when there is no internet. The game is a homage to the prehistoric era, when dinosaurs roamed the Earth and humans had not yet invented technology. The game's pixelated style is inspired by Google Chrome's error illustrations, which show a dinosaur when there is no connection. The game's creators wanted to offer a fun and engaging way for users to pass the time while waiting for their internet to come back. They also wanted to make the game as simple and accessible as possible, so that anyone can play it on any device and browser dinosaur game
