Description

Application context should not be hard-coded within the app:
eInvitationContent=Hello {{name}}, you have been invited to study. Your username is: {{username}}. \ Please set your password here: http://localhost:8080/#/login/password-reset/{{token}} Your,
StudyManager

Instead of http://localhost:8080/study-manager use an variable {{appContext}}.

https://stackoverflow.com/questions/12236590/retrieving-the-servlet-context-path-from-a-spring-web-application it only returns context, not the whole path, so i will add variable to config with url
